Dear Grace Church Family and Friends,

Would you like to participate in some Sacred Conversations for Racial Justice?

If so, you will have the opportunity at Grace Church on Thursday, January 21 through Saturday, January 23.

Trinity Institute is an important, annual theological conference hosted by Trinity Church, Wall Street in New York City. The year's conference is Listen for a Change: Sacred Conversation for Racial Justice, featuring speakers such as: Michele Norris, Nicholas Kristof, and Kelly Brown Douglas (who has been to Grace Church to preach and teach).

Grace Church will be serving as a partner parish for the conference, webcasting the keynote address, presentations and panel discussions, and offering attendees the opportunity to participate in reflection groups.

If you would like to participate at Grace Church, registration is required by Monday, January 11. You may register by responding to this email, or by emailing Sunny Simmons, Grace Church Parish Administrator at ssimmons@graceepiscopalchurch.org. Space may be limited. Preference will be given to those who register for all three days, but you may register for individual days.

For scheduling and more information, please see the Grace Church website: www.graceepiscopalchurch.org.

You might also want to visit the Trinity Institute website at www.trinitywallstreet.org/trinity-institute/2016/home.org

See you in church,
Andrew
