

December 12, 2017

#AdventWord is part of the Anglican Communion's global Advent calendar. Every day, I receive an email containing one word and a brief meditation related to that word.

Today's word was: WATCH. And, the meditation began "Come to your windows, people of the world."

How often do you stop, look at your window, and simply: WATCH?

At our apartment, we are blessed with a terrific view. We can see over Rock Creek Park, where we mark the seasons by the changing of the trees. There is Washington National Cathedral, and a barely visible Washington Monument. On the Fourth of July, we see fireworks in the District and all along the horizon.

But, we rarely pause and soak it all in.

Today, though, I did.

What's outside your window?

See you in church,
Andrew