Dear Grace Church Family and Friends,

Christopher Robin and Winnie-the-Pooh were walking through the Hundred Acre Wood.

“So, Pooh,” asked Christopher Robin, “why aren’t you busy?”

“Because it’s a nice day,” said Pooh.

“Yes, but…”

“Why ruin it?” asked Pooh.

“But you could be doing something important,” said Christopher Robin.

“I am,” said Pooh.

“Oh? Doing what?”

“Listening.”

“Listening to what?” asked Christopher Robin.

“To the birds,” said Pooh, “and that squirrel over there.”

“What are they saying?”

“That it’s a nice day,” said Pooh.

“But you already know that,” said Christopher Robin.

“Yes,” said Pooh, “but it’s always good to hear someone else thinks so, too.”

Make the most of the day, and I’ll see you in church,
Andrew
